The elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fountain was the scene of a very pretty and well timed compliment to Mrs. Frank Clark Saturday afternoon, who will leave in a few days for her future home in the west. The occasion was one of perfect pleasure with Mrs. Fountain as hostess, she being assisted in receiving her guest by Mrs. Frank Clark, Mrs. W. E. Astin, Mrs. J. B. Hines, Mrs. T. K. Lawrence, Mrs. G. M. Brandon, Mrs. J. E. Butler. This home lends itself most readily to such functions so spacious and elegant in its appointments.

The decorations were in keeping with every suggestion of taste. Pot plants, ferns and the glosy green of foliage palms, harmonized with the delicate beauty of flowers, gave a touch of loveliness every where throughout the hospitable home. The many, many tables dotting the rooms suggested the game of Forty-two, and soon the ladies were deep in the pleasure of the ever popular game. The handsome hand-painted score cards bore pretty scenes of the west.

A guest book presided over by Miss Gussie Buchanan and Miss Francis Fountain had the name and a good wish from each guest written in it, while the outside cover had a hand-painted picture depicting life in the west.

At the close of the interesting game Mrs. J. B. Hines presented the pretty guest book. Mrs. Clark, with the promptings of a woman's deep appreciation, accepted the gift. A salad course with grape juice was served.

The Bryan Choral Club met yesterday afternoon and reorganized for the season's work. Mrs. H. O. Boatwright, whose talent as a musician is widely recognized, is president of the organization, and Mr. J. Bert Graham teacher of vocal at the T. W. C. will direct. There is room in the club for a few new members, and there should be no difficulty in obtaining these, since the benefits to be derived from membership in this club are away in excess of time consumed or expense incurred.

The club has already established a reputation and under the guidance of Mrs. Boatwright, assited by Mr. Graham and the indvidual members, even better work may be confidently expected.

Woman's Curiosity.

"Woman's curiosity," said Mr. Fletcher, "is a quality of mind beyond human understanding."

"Yes," said Mrs. Fletcher. "What made you think of that?"

"The fool actions of a woman that I saw downtown today. She followed a man ten blocks just to get to read a placard that was fastened to his back. She spotted him at Thirty-fourth street. That was really the end of her trip—I made that out from something she said to another woman who was too fat to join in the chase—but when she caught sight of that flaming red poster tied to the man's back her curiosity got the better of her and she set out after him. He led her quite a chase across town and downtown and back again, but she never weakened. She tagged faithfully along in his wake, and finally she got close enough to read that notice."

Mrs. Fletcher reflected a moment.

"What did it say?" she asked.

"It advised her to get her teeth pulled somewhere on Sixth avenue."

Mrs. Fletcher thought again.

"Where were you all the time she was trying to find that out?"

"Me?" said Fletcher. "Oh, I was following the woman. I wanted to see if she finally caught up with the man."—New York Times.

Invitation Withdrawn.

Austin, Sept. 19.—J. N. Simpson of Dallas and Charles Ogden of San Antonio, Republican candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, addressed a large crowd at the fair grounds Saturday, including many Confederate veterans. Henry Terrell of San Antonio, John Hall of Lampasas and William Fleming of Georgetown; leading Republicans, were present. Colonel Simpson scored the Texas Democratic administration and condemned the full rendition, insurance and proposed bank guaranty laws. He also jabbed the "prohibition rider" of the Democrats. Ois remarks were full of sarcasm. Mr. Ogden made a similar speech. Veterans with whom Colonel Simpson served in the army called upon him at his hotel.

Colonel J. S. B. Miller of the Confederate home directorate invited Colonel Simpson to visit the home, Colonel Simpson accepting. Fifteen minutes later Colonel Miller withdrew the invitation, explaining the invitation was through courtesy of Confederate veterans, but Democrats protested on account of its political significance, causing reluctant withdrawal.

Body Found In Creek.

Marshall, Tex., Sept. 19.—The body of Clarence McMichaels, aged eighteen, a bank clerk, was found in Potter's creek, near here. He went on a fishing trip Friday night unaccompanied, and as expected to return late no search was made until Saturday night. The boat was discovered upset 200 yards away. The young man was unable to swim although the creek is narrow where the boat overturned. No help was near and he drowned.

Mrs. Bradley Seeks Husband.

Gainesville, Tex., Sept. 19.—Mrs. C. R. Bradley requested the authorities to begin a systematic search for her husband, who has been missing two weeks. Bradley is a rich stockman and farmer ten miles west of here and went to Chicago with considerable money. He was to have returned several days ago, but nothing has been heard from him. His wife fears foul play.

Larger Shops to Be Built.

Taylor, Tex., Sept. 19.—G. M. Booth, F. H. Welch, L. W. Chase, J. A. Thompson and Mayor Roberts returned from Houston. They say that as the result of conference with Receiver Freeman larger shops and a roundhouse will be built here to replace those recently destroyed by fire. They will cost probably $200,000 with equipment.

Serious Blow on Head.

Belton, Tex., Sept. 19.—Tom Stiddem was arrested at Bartlett and brought here charged with attacking a traveling man, C. L. Royston, with a brick. The latter was truck on the head with the missile and the wound may prove fatal. He was sent to the Temple hospital.

Among them are Messrs. Albert Lefevre and Robert Elliott, who went to Foard county, and Messrs. Roy Ball, Joe McDowell and Earnest Biggs, who left for Comanche county.

Miss Barbie Fullerton spent Saturday night with Miss Lillian Elliott.

Messrs. Albert McCallum and De Seeley went to Benchley, Thursday.

Will now ring off and if this letter does not accidentally fall into the wastebasket will come again soon.

LU.

Mrs. Kate Freeman O'Neal Dead.

After a lingering illness of four and one-half months, Mrs. Kate Freeman O'Neal died at her home in Temple, September 19th, and was buried Monday at 2'clock, in Temple cemetery.

Mrs. O'Neal was the youngest daughter of Mrs. P. Freeman and was reared in this county, in the Steep Hollow community, where many warm friends will learn of her death with sorrow. Over a year ago she was married to Jesse O'Neal. Soon afterwards she and her husband united with the Free Baptist church of Bryan. Shortly after that they moved their place of residence to Temple. She was loved there as well as here by all who had the pleasure of making her acquaintance.

Katie was 17 years, 3 months and 16 days old. Her life's chapter was short here on this earth, but as she died a true christian it is completed in the next world. She had a loving, sunny disposition and leaves many true friends to grieve with her relatives, who are the young husband, the mother and the following brothers and sisters: Jake Freeman and Miss Annie Freeman of Alabama, Charles and Sam Freeman and James O'Neal, of Temple; Mrs. Walter Lowry, Mrs. George Burrough and Mrs. Marshall Jones of this county.

To those she leaves behind: May they find hope and strength in their hour of trial to be braver Christian soldiers and press on to met her in the next world as was her dying request, for she asked them not to grieve for her but to rejoice.

Her friend,
LULA WHITEHURST.

Washington, Sept. 19.—When the attention of W. C. Haskell, formerly United States marshal at Cleveland, O., and now sealer of weights and measures for the District of Columbia, was called to the statement of Governor Haskell of Oklahoma that it is he to whom Mr. Hearst referred in his Columbus speech as having relations with Standard Oil company Mr. Haskell said: "Governor Haskell is evidently mistaken. FURTHER EVIDENCE.

Description of Man at Sherman Tallies Closely to Dunham.

San Jose, Cal., Sept. 19.—Further evidence that William Hatfield, the man who is being held in Sherman, Tex., is James C. Dunham, who murdered six persons in this county in 1896, was received by Sheriff Longford in a dispatch from United States Marshal McAfee of Sherman as follows:

"Two-inch scar, left foot, beginning on big toe, ranging back to second; height five feet eleven inches; blue eyes; large depression between. Told cellmate he would die before he would go to California. Your man, sure."

This description tallies closely to Dunham. District Attorney Free left for Sacramento to secure extradition papers, and immediately upon his return Sheriff Langford and a deputy will start for Sherman for the prisoner.

Shortage of Torpedoes.

New York, Sept. 19.—According to a dispatch from Newport, R. I., there appears to be a shortage of torpedoes in the navy, especially those of the Whitehead make, compared with those on hand in the navies of other countries. It is said the United States is far behind Great Britain, Germany and Japan. It is understood this country is less 500 submarine missiles on hand, while Great Britain has 10,000 stored away. Germany and Japan each are said to have 4,000. The government supply has been increased 100 during the year, and will be augmented when the new torpedo factory at Newport is started about the first of next year.

Large Snake Captured.

Sherman, Tex., Sept. 19.—Within the last two years several hundred dollars' loss has been caused on the Bob Barnett plantation, west of Howe, from rattlesnake bites to horses, mules and cattle.

Efforts to locate what is believed to be a den of snakes have proved unavailing, and while often seen, few of the snakes have been taken singly. Jerry Riddle captured one alive and brought it to this city. It was four feet eight inches in length, and when captured measured twelve inches around at the largest place. It has nine rattles and a button, and is of the diamond variety.

Politics will enga... the attention of the delegates to some little extent, although there is but one office to be filled by vote, all other vacancies being provided for by custom and succession. The only office to be filled and over which there is likely to be some campaigning is that of deputy grand sire.

The office of grand sire is the highest in the gift of the order. It has been the custom for years for the man who serves as deputy grand sire for a year to succeed at the end of his term to that of grand sire. There are seven candidates for deputy grand sire. They are: W. P. Kuykendall, Wyoming; A. C. Keller, Texas; Robert T. Daniel, Georgia; John B. Cochran, Indiana; J. S. Hoagland, Nebraska; Massena Bullard, Montana and R. H. Myers, Winnipeg.

Alfred McVeigh, a government employe, and Josefina Hall an infant, are the only Americans reported attacked by cholera Sunday.

Thirty-five new cases were reported between 6 o'clock Monday morning and 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

INCREASES RAPIDLY.

Cholera Is Raging at Russian Capital and Other Cities.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 21.—Cholera continues to increase rapidly day by day at St. Petersburg.

Between noon Sunday and noon Monday municipal hospitals reported 880 cases and 155 deaths, and additional statistics from military and suburban hospitals for the same period swell this total to truly formidable proportions. There are thirty-five cases of policemen alone in Seminoffsky military hospitals.

Dispatches received here from three provinces report 488 new cases and 201 deaths in twenty-four hours.

Rostov-on-the-Don furnishes 182 cases and eighty deaths.

Another Large Beef Contract.

London, Sept. 21.—The war office has placed with a Chicago firm another large contract fo rAmerican beef. The admiralty is engaged at the present time in negotiations for a contract for the navy.

...women to ...places of boys and girls who are forced to quit employment and enter school. The law has increased the attendance on the schools very noticeably.

Fists and Knives Used.

Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 21.—In a duel with ordinary pocketknives Charles Dunfield of Pennsylvania was killed by Sam Wray of Tennessee as the culmination of a quarrel between former friends. The men were employed on the Hot Springs and Western railroad and came to the city. They quarreled, fought at first with fists and then with knives. Wray was cut about the face and Dunfield was slashed about the right arm, a vein being severed which caused him to bleed to death. Wray escaped.

Harrington at Fort Worth.

Fort Worth, Sept. 21.—H. H. Harrington, formerly president of the agricultural and mechanical college is in the city conferring with friends. It is Professor Harrington expects to make Fort Worth his future home soon.

Suicides With Strychnine.

No Rain For Forty Days.

Gallipolis, O., Sept. 21.—Monday marked the fortieth day without rain in this section. Much suffering and loss has been caused. Farmers are driving stock five and six miles for water. Many schools in West Virginia districts have closed and oil operations had to cease in some localities owing to the water famine.

Noted Trotting Authority Dead.

Boston, Sept. 21.—Lemuel C. Trott, a widely known authority on trotting, who was fatally injured by falling from a train, died. He was sixty-four years old. From 1887 to 1897 he published the "Turf Weekly" and "Spirit of the Hub," and for years wrote for Boston dailies on trotting matters.

Killed In Front of Home.

New Orleans, Sept. 21.—Mateo Lanasa, an Italian fruit and vegetable dealer, was shot and killed in front of his home in St. Ann street by Frank Pusteri, another Italian, who occupied half a double cottage with Lanasa. Bastiano Bomeretto, who was with Pusteri at the time, was shot and badly wounded by Mrs. Lanasa, widow of the dead man. Bad feeling existed for some time between Pusteri and Lanasa.

Triple Murderer Hangs.

Kingston, Mo., Sept. 21.—Albert Filley was hanged Monday for the murder of his wife, brother and baby boy.

BRYAN, TEXAS, SEPT. 22, 1908

Foraker contends that he has done no wrong, but that don't go in Ohio.

The seven-cent hog is surely a more attractive proposition than seven-cent cotton.

Georgia has abolished the barbarous system of leasing convicts to private individuals or corporations.

The report that night riders had appeared in Arkansas is now alleged to have started from a practical joke.

The branding iron is another relic of barbarism that must take its place amnog the instruments of torture preserved in museums.

The Republicans claim that Taft has a cinch. The word cinch means belly band. If any man needs a cinch Taft does.

That which a woman wears on her head is not a hat, it is a "creation." The new name is far more appropriate than the old.

The cost of hauling from farm to railroad shipping point over a bad road is often greater than the cost of shipping by rail to final destination.

Taft's first formal campaign speech will be made tomorrow on the farm of George Ade, the Hoosier humorist. This gives color to the suspicion that Taft's candidacy is a joke.

It is time to begin to look out for the smooth tongued promoter who will bequile you into buying stock in the only sure-thing flying machine company.

A lawsuit has just been decided in the state of Oaxaca, Mexico, that is said to have been on the dockets of the courts 340 years. That beats Jarndyce and Jarndyce.

It is announced that Mr. Riddle, the American ambassador, will stay at his post of duty in spite of the cholera, which is raging in St. Petersburg. If he did otherwise he would justly be an object of contempt.

The German Kaiser has expressed the opinion that navigating the air is risky and that accidents may be expected to occur. It is possible that some other people had thought of that.

The tobacco growing boom has acquired such momentum in East Texas, that if anybody tried to stop it he would get knocked out or run over. Somebody will start it on the redlands of Brazos county first thing we know.

If the alleged correspondence between Congressman Sibley and John D. Archbold is genuine, Mr. Sibley ought to follow the example of Senator Foraker and eliminate himself from the campaign.

The great battle of the scientists against the Great White Plague begins in Washington today. Physicians and philanthropists from all civilized nations have met to devise some means of destroying the greatest of all destroyers of human life.

The efforts to simplify business by knocking out the middle man have led to the discovery that silk can be made from fig leaves without the services of the silk worm. This is getting back to first principles, for was not mother Eve's silk gown made of fig leaves?

per for the ... the president himself, to ... and affort that ought to be given to the service of the people in boosting the candidates of a party.

Uncle Sam's recruiting sergeant at Fort Worth announces that no more lovelorn youths are wanted in the army. When a young man allows a maudlin passion to get the better of his judgement he shows himself so lacking in manhood as to be unfit for a soldier. Nor is he worth much for anything else.

Governor Haskell offers the law's delay as a reason for not sueing Hearst, for civil damages or criminal libel. It is a pity that it is so, but all will admit that the governor's position is well taken. Haskell's proposition to submit the case to a commission of newspaper men of national reputation seems fair and will doubtless be favorably received by the unprejudiced public.

IN DISTRICT COURT.

Three pleas of guilty were entered in District court Monday morning as follows: Kenney Smith, theft of horse, 2 years; Andrew Shears, burglary 2 years. The defendants waived their rights in each case, and were sentenced at once.

Attachments were issued for a number of witnesses wanted by the defense in the case of the state vs Ed Mathis, charged by indictment with murder in the first degree. This case will be called for trial Sept 30.

The Tyler Courier and Times says: "Common smoked bacon is retailing through East Texas at from 14 cents to 15 cents cash, and for 20 cents on time. Cotton is selling at 9 cents. A farmer can grow five pounds of meat as cheaply as he can grow one pound of cotton. Eighty thousand dollars are being paid out in Tyler for meat and lard each month, and a large per cent of this meat and lard is sold to the cotton growers within fifty miles of Tyler. Here lies food for thought."

has a charm of its own aside from a pleasing personality. That is why work done by the Bryan Steam Laundry has so many admirers. The simple reason is that we "know how" to do the work properly, and furthermore we do it. We take the trouble to do it right. Lots of people know how to do a thing, but they haven't pride enough to do it properly. We are not that kind.

The head of the powder trust is a member of the national Republican committee, a member of the steel trust is treasurer of the national Republican committee, the steel trust is contributing large sums of money to the national Republican campaign, a Republican senator who admits having received $15,000 at one time and $14,000 at another from the Standard Oil trust for his services in influencing elections and legislation, has been selected to introduce the Republican candidate for president at the biggest Republican rally ever held. These are only a few of many important facts recently discovered, all of which prove that the Republican party is the party of the trusts.

...hambersburg, Pa., Register has, for more than a year, been publishing Mr. Kyle's monthly astronomical and weather charts which are put in an attractive form. Mr. Kyle's system is based on the moon's conjuction with each of the planets. He holds that a disturbance progressing eastward across the continent reaches Chambersburg within one day of the conjuction of the moon with a planet. He claims that the moon's conjunction with Mercury produces fog, with Venus cold and blizzards, more radical when Venus is morning star than when she is evening star. With Mars sleet, cold and snow, Jupiter and Saturn rains; Uranus severe storms and Neptune same as Venus.

Mr. Kyle has some truth on his side. I have used these moon conjunctions, occasionally, for 25 years. But they miss oftener than they hit and Mr. Kyle has not yet learned when not to use them. There are not far from 100 different relative positions of sun, earth, moon and major planets that sometimes control our weather and Mr. Kyle has found one of them. If he would progress he must learn to use the weather records.

... and front portions meet. They only just meet at that point, however, then separate for the rest of the length. Stitched straps of the messaline join the two bands across the front and again at the back, each piece held in place with an ornamental button.

One of the handsomest wraps of this style, shown among the importations, is fashioned of satin or some lustrous silk and is lined. It is perfectly plain and smooth-fitting across the shoulders; but the two fronts meet low over the bust, then abruptly curve to long points at the side. These are slashed, and the one toward the back is shortened some five inches. The Empire back in one piece hangs full in jabot effect. The sleeves tucked from the armside, where they are put in without a gather to a point over the hands, are the latest note. All sleeves, whatever their general design, are small and tapering; otherwise as much latitude as ever is permitted, and there seems to be no end to the number and originality of the designs.

Marvelous things are accomplished nowadays by the manufacturers in imparting to the cloths of wool a satin-like finish. Broadcloths of the finest grades have a more satin-like appearance than they ever had, and this same sheen and softness make beautiful Venetian and prunella cloths. Diagonally striped woollen stuffs in two tones, brown and green, blue and red, and other colors, are often combined with black. Such gowns are commonly trimmed with velvet or braid, or with both. The diagonals intended for winter, will be extremely thick, and will be made up in the plainest manner, with coats and skirts of a clinging nature. The coats will, as a usual thing, be long and moulded to the figure.

The waistcoat is likely to be an important item of the season's costumes, both in plain tailored form and in elaborate embroidered form, and

...is an exquisite bloom on its surface by which it makes itself known to those in search of it. The browns are also quite pretty and will be seen in many shades.

Hydrangean mauve over pale blue is a combination that is as effective by day as by night, and is greatly enhanced by the addition of silver embroideries. This combination was worn recently by the bridesmaids at a fashionable wedding. The materials were decorated with hydrangeas. The bride wore a lovely gown of porcelain-white satin with a train cloth of silver. Elephant gray over blue is also a handsome and effective combination, while dull green relieved with copper is of striking beauty.

Hoods are becoming fashionable in London this season and the milliners have gone quite extensively into the business of making them. Whether the wearing of hoods will ever become general again as it has been at one time, remains to be seen, but they are given a fair trial by the British women. The specimens shown are very dainty and not at all unbecoming. The prettiest are undoubtedly those shaped like friar's cowls, and they are also the most convenient, as they roll up small and can be tucked into the pocket of a theater wrap or stowed away in a traveling bag. Those run with whalebone are more cumbersome, and this setting out from the face does not improve their appearance much if at all. Both kinds are made of soft taffeta lined with satin and trimmed about the front and around the neck with ruches of lace. Sometimes they are bordered with small flowers, which is a mistaken notion. A few knots of ribbon and the lace are all that is necessary. Hoods are worn only when going to or coming from theater or other evening entertainments, or when traveling. Some women have taken to them most kindly and will immediately doff their hats and put on hoods on boarding a railway car, retaining them even when lunching or dining in the restaurant.

Evening hairdressings are more than ever a matter of importance. Fortunateily there are many inexpensive aids to a chic effect. One of these is the use of gold and silver braid and ribbon, run into the loops between the puffs or forming a filet band above the brow. If the face is of the babyish type, little bows of metallic ribbon may be placed here and there and arranged to stand up or lie flatly, according to taste. Black velvet and tulle bows and aigrettes are much affected for evening, as they are supposed to bring out the color of the hair.

The tidal wave of civic righteousness now sweeping over the world is a fulfilment of prophecy. The trusts have said: "When the overflowing scourge shall pass through it shall not come into us, for we have made lies our refuge and under falsehood have we hid ourselves." But a greater than the trusts has said: "Your covenant with death shall be disannulled your agreement with hell shall not stand; when the overflowing scourage shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down."

TELEPHONE IMPROVEMENTS.

The Bryan Exchange Has Made Notable Ones—Getting Things in Shape Again.

A visit to the office of the Bryan telephone exchange revealed a busy scene yesterday. The new cable system, doing away with the intricate mass of wires and many attendant inconveniences, is about completed. The switch board of the local system has been moved to a seperate room in the rear, leaving the long distance office where both have been, giving more room and opportunity for handling the business of both departments. A new switchboard has been added for all toll lines, which is another marked improvement. An elaborate device for protection against lightning, the best manufactured, has been put in. Four operators will hereafter be employed both day and night for the local exchange, and one operator day and night for the long distance lines, as heretofore. All the old wires will be removed from the poles as early as possible and the cables will be raised. All poles not used for cables will be removed from Main street.

Mr. C. K. Sweet of Dallas, contractor for installing the cable system, worked all night Thursday night with his force of employees making the change to the cable system and getting the switchboards moved, and the local employees worked most of the night, assisting in the hurry up work.

Manager Sims anticipates that some patrons will be inconvenienced for a few days before the entire system gets in working order, but after that he anticipates a fine service, which there is every reason to believe will result from the practical renewing of the entire system and the addition of the various improvements. The switchboards have been entirely rewired to correspond with the other improvements.

This enterprising move on the part of the telephone company will be highly appreciated by Bryan people and outside patrons and the management is to be congratulated.

...he funeral was held at the ... terday afternoo... the prese...e of a l... of friends ...om Bryan... and from other points, ma... ing from a distance. Rev. J. We... del Davis, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, conducted the service at the home and concluded it at the grave. Members of Camp J. B. Robertson were present in a body and took part in the service at the cemetery. Dr. J. D. West, chaplain of the camp, reviewed briefly the life and character of Mr. Parker and paid a beautiful tribute to his memory, closing his remarks with a prayer.

Messrs. W. E. Saunders, J. E. Butler, Judge J. W. Doremus, Judge A. G. Board, General H. B. Stoddard and Col. M. W. Sims were the honorary pall bearers. In compliance with the wish of Mr. Parker's, faithful colored men, from his plantation in the Brazos bottom, bore his body to and from the hearse to the grave. One of the longest proccessions ever seen in Bryan, extending a large part of the way from the home to the cemetery, followed the remains to their last resting place, an underground brick and cement vault. The floral tributes were exceptionally beautiful, coming from friends at home and from other cities, and embraced almost every elaborate and beautiful design, the whole making of the grave a veritable mound of beauty and fragrance. The business houses of the city remained closed during the funeral hour.

FOR EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN.

Plans of the Central Texas Baptist Association—Fifth Sunday Meeting.

The opening session of the fifth Sunday meeting of the Central Texas Baptist Association, composed of Brazos and Robertson counties, was held last night at the First Baptist church. Rev. O. C. Payne of Calvert preached the introductory sermon, following which an important business session was held.

Plans are being formed for a vigorous educational campaign in the interest of the Texas Woman's College and the correlated Baptist schools of the state. It is quite probable that a big educational rally will be held at some convenient point in the association during January. At the meeting last night a recommendation was adopted that one half of all the funds raised in the association shall be contributed to the Texas Woman's College and the other half apportioned among the correlated schools.

The institute meeting will continue over Sunday. Today's session will open at 8:30 o'clock with devotional exercises led by Rev. J. B. Hicks of Franklin. Rev. H. R. Carroll of Hearne will preach Sunday at 11.

Those in attendance from Robertson county on the meeting last night are Revs. H. R. Carroll of Hearne; O. C. Payne of Calvert; M. F. Drury, C. C. Nicholson, W. D. Crane, J. B. Hicks, F. C. Nash and G. W. Goodman of Franklin; Mr. W. J. Cox of Franklin, moderator; Messrs. Pat Forest of Franklin and A. G. Cobb, Hearne.

H. G. Rhodes returned yesterday from a visit to Mr. and Mrs. George Willman at Meridian, Miss. Mrs. Rhodes and Master Gholson remained for a longer visit.

T. A. and J. P. Gilpin of Kurten were in the city yesterday accompaning P. M. Gilpin, a brother of the former who left for his nome at Goldthwaite after a visit at Kurten.

M. K. Johnston, W. T. Johnston and John Cairnes of Chriesman, N.C. Johnston and G. M. Johnston of Caldwell were here yesterday to attend the funeral of Mr. M. Parker.

J. Y. Henry of the Thompson Creek community left yesterday for Mart, where he will make his home. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. R. M. Henry, who will visit there.

A. M. Parker has purchased the interest of B. F. Wiley in the confectionery business of Holmes & Wiley, and formed a partnership with C. H. Holmes under the firm name of Holmes & Parker. The Eagle bespeaks for the new firm continued success. They will continue to serve their patrons with the best of everything in their line. The Eagle learns with regret that Mr. Wiley contemplates moving to west Texas at an early date.

MARKED PROGRESS.

Remarkable Showing Made Along Educational Lines.

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 28.—The morning session of the Southern Educational association Friday was taken up with reports from states, all of which indicated marked progress for the year along all school lines. There was a remarkable showing of a better tendency as regards teaching methods and call for higher standards on the part of those who teach. It was also brought out that in most southern states there were poor superintendence and the need of better things in this line suggested. Delegates agreed with Prsident Abercrombie and Dr. G. R. Glenn of North Georgia Agricultural college, that it is the duty of the national government to provide $2,000,000 or $3,000,000 for education in states, and the compulsory education idea was largely favored.

College women met Friday morning early and spent the day discussing papers. Among those present are Miss Beall Martin of Atlanta, secretary of the Southern Association of College Women; Dr. Lillian Koelmson, first vice president of the Association of Southern College Women, and Mrs. Celestia Parrish of Athens, Ga., a member of the executive committee.

DISCUSS QUESTIONS.

Matters of National Importance Come Up at Providence Meeting.

Providence, Dec. 28.—Eminent authorities in history, sociology and political science discussed questions of national importance in the meeting being held here under the auspices of Brown university. Men prominent in historical societies and many well known college professors are taking part in the conferences of the American Historical association at Rockefeller Hall auditorium.

Chairman Max Farrand, a professor in Leland Stanford university, presided at the conference which discussed "History in the College Curriculum." Among the speakers on this subject were Andrew C. McLaughlin, professor in the University of Chicago; Professor George F. Harrison of the University of Texas, and Professor Samuel B. Harding of the University of Indiana.

The conference "On Problems of State and Local Historical Societies" was presided over by Chairman B. F. Shambaugh of the State Historical Society of Iowa, and among the speakers were Professor H. V. Ames of the University of Pennsylvania, John P. Kennedy, state librarian of Virginia, and Professor Henry E. Bourne of the Western Reserve university.

NASHVILLE SALOONS.
